Sanjeet Dawar

Creating a bank of best practices is not an easy job, but EDGE has made it possible at the click of a button. Sharing of best practices and learning across the group is something which is beyond value.

Mikhil Kumar Gupta

Tata Power

It is a great initiative by TBExG to have such a platform for sharing across the group. I feel it will gradually become a collaboration and sharing space across the group as more people start coming in.

The enrolment process is very good. I like it. As about Edge club the name is nice. About the features I am very familiar with this because it is what we have done in TCS for the last few years. I regularly contribute and refer to it internally. So good to go.

Thank you for the Risk Management Benchmarking Study – it is very useful and well-documented. The document itself is a 'Benchmark' in terms of presentation and content.
